

“Scholarly Reading and Writing in the Age of AI and the Need for Visibility and Impact: Issues and Challenges”

Johannes Gutenberg University, Mainz (Alte Mensa, Linke Aula); 23 and 24 March, 2023

Program, last updated 22 March, 2023

Website (English language): <https://book-studies.uni-mainz.de/scholarly-reading-and-writing-in-the-age-of-ai-and-the-need-for-visibility-and-impact-issues-and-challenges-a-workshop-particularly-for-young-researchers/>

THU, 23 MARCH
MORNING
from 9:00 – Registration, coffee
10:00 – Salutation	ADDRESSES	Johannes Gutenberg University: Prof. Dr. Alfred Gall , vice dean of FB05 faculty (virtually) Christoph Bläsi , co-organisator (Johannes Gutenberg University, Mainz) Institute Francais Mainz: Sylvain Thollon , director
10:30 – Contextualisation: results and ideas from the Lyon workshop in November	SHORT PRESENTATIONS, DISCUSSION	Chérifa Boukacem-Zeghmouri , co-organisator (Université Claude Bernard Lyon 1, Lyon [F]) Laura Bousquet (Université Lyon 2, Lyon [F]) Christoph Bläsi , co-organisator
11:15 – >Intellectual Property Right Aspects of Text and Data Mining<	ASSUMPTIONS AND THESES, DISCUSSION	Valentina Moscon , Max Planck Institute for Innovation and Competition, München
12:15 – 13.30: LUNCH BREAK	(BKM company restaurant)
AFTERNOON
13.30 – “Where in the research cycle AI solutions come in”	PRESENTATION, DISCUSSION	Martijn Roelandse , academic publishing specialist, Ouderkerk (NL) Examples for AI-support in the research cycle, particularly on the example of SciScore, explanation of the criteria like reproducibility, blinding,

		randomisation, persistent identifiers, etc.
14.45 – “Let’s write an academic book with the help of AI”	LAB	Henning Schönenberger, Rocco Raso & colleagues , Springer Nature, Heidelberg / Berlin Hands-on work to produce an AI-generated book on the basis of material produced during or for the workshop, use and discussion of human intervention
EVENING
Reception – invitation to all !	(Baron university restaurant, on campus)
FRI, 24 MARCH
MORNING
9:00 – GUIDED TOUR GUTENBERG MUSEUM	(Gutenberg Museum, Liebfrauenplatz 5, 55116 Mainz)	(after that: public transport back to Campus “Alte Mensa, Linke Aula”)
10:45 – “Scholarly communication as a business - tendencies of degeneration”	KEYNOTE	Gerhard Lauer , Johannes Gutenberg University, Mainz
11:30 – “Large language models – applications and consequences”	LIGHTNING TALK, DISCUSSION	Nicolas Flores-Herr , Fraunhofer Institute IAIS, Berlin (virtually)
12:30 – 13:30: LUNCH BREAK	(BKM company restaurant)
AFTERNOON
13:30 – “Large Language Models in University Teaching”	SHORT PRESENTATION	Dominik Schuh , Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz
14:00 – “What does this mean for knowledge creation, academia and universities as well as university teaching ?”	CONCLUDING PANEL	Chérifa Boukacem-Zeghmouri Frédérique Bordignon , Ecole des Ponts, Champs-sur-Marne [F] (virtually) Nicolas Flores-Herr Henning Schönenberger Dominik Schuh Christoph Bläsi
15:00 – „Where do we go from here ?“ (formulation of a „manifesto“)	GROUP WORK
15:30 – Wrap-up, fairwell		Chérifa Boukacem-Zeghmouri Christoph Bläsi